Child Abuse Listening
and Mediation
Santa Barbara

Cecilia Rodriguez has worked at Child Abuse Listening and Mediation, or CALM, for more than 23 years. She is a licensed marriage and family therapist and has held positions in prevention, assessment and treatment of child abuse.

Rodriguez began her career with CALM as their child abuse prevention educator in 1984. She later developed many of CALM's critical treatment and prevention programs, including the Intensive In-Home program, the SPIRIT program and the HOPE program, all of which have become models of care throughout Santa Barbara County. She has also served as one of CALM's forensic interview specialists for more than 10 years.

Rodriguez is highly respected among CALM staff, is a beloved member of the Santa Barbara community and has always been connected to the children and families CALM serves. She has been instrumental in the growth of the organization's critical programs and services, and has helped build CALM into the successful and well-respected agency it is today.

CALM was founded in 1970 to reach stressed parents before they hurt their children. CALM continues to be the only nonprofit agency in Santa Barbara County focusing solely on preventing, assessing, and treating child abuse and family violence through comprehensive, cutting-edge programs. CALM offers children, families, and adults a safe, non-judgmental, caring and strength-based environment to heal and increase family well-being.
